

OPTIMIZATION OF POWDER RIVER TRAINING COMPLEX

Ellsworth Air Force Base

What is the Powder River Training Complex (PRTC)?

- Designated military training airspace within the National Airspace System
- Overlays parts of North Dakota, South Dakota, Wyoming, and Montana
- Consists of a group of Military Operations Areas (MOAs) and Air Traffic Control Assigned Airspace (ATCAAs)
- Primarily used for day-to-day training by B-1 aircrews from Ellsworth Air Force Base and B-52 aircrews from Minot Air Force Base
- Also supports Large Force Exercises that bring together joint forces to participate in combat training scenarios
- Established in 2015

Existing PRTC Airspace